ABOUT

Rebuilding Iraq is your number one source of contracts, tenders, projects and news in Iraq.

With approximately 145 billion barrels of proven oil reserves, Iraq ranks second in the world behind Saudi Arabia in the amount of oil reserves.

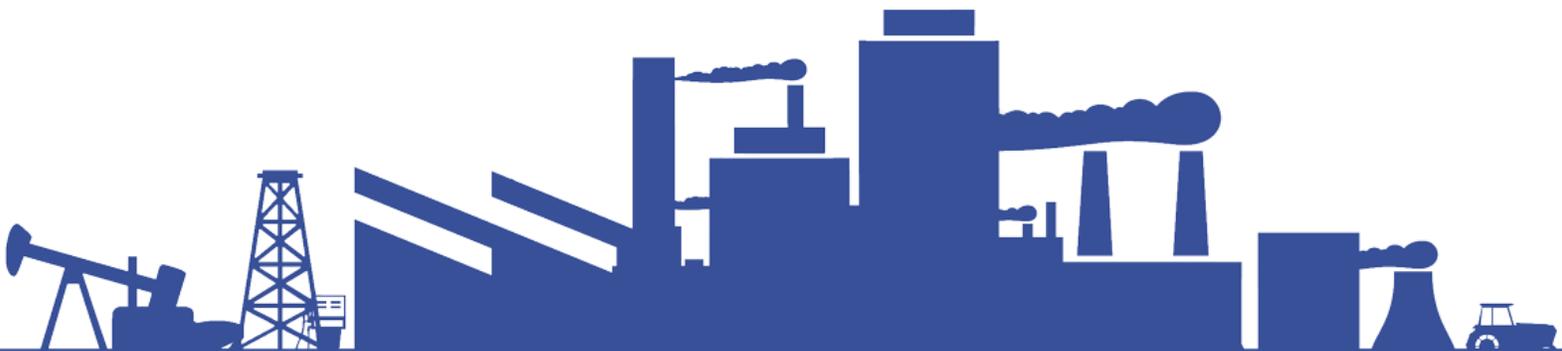

The World Bank estimate long-term reconstruction costs could reach in excess of $100 billion, and despite billions of dollars generated through oil revenue, Iraq generates only 50% of electricity required for the population and needs major investment in rebuilding the country's infrastructure.

The aim of our portal is to improve the overall operational efficiency of the country by enhancing the current procurement process in Iraq by increasing the amount of quality suppliers providing a better service to the buyers.

Rebuilding Iraq provides business intelligence and information covering all sectors of industry including communication, construction, defence, finance, oil and gas, power, telecom and transport.

Our expertise and market knowledge makes Rebuilding Iraq the number one choice for all sizes of companies looking for new business opportunities.

Whether you are a business looking for contracts information or looking to promote your company to the blue chip companies operating in the country Rebuilding Iraq has the services.

JOIN REBUILDING IRAQ AS A BUYER

We currently publish tenders on behalf of over 100 buyers in Iraq to a host of local and international engineering and service companies.

The aim of our portal is to improve the procurement process in Iraq by increasing the amount of quality suppliers providing a better service to the buyers.

As a buyer publishing tenders and contracts through our portal, will save you money and resources as we will assist in identifying suitable suppliers and sending through key information about their services in a comparable format in order to save you time.

However, I believe the key benefit will be to improve overall operational efficiency by identifying new suppliers offering either cost savings or innovative products and services to enhance overall business performance.

You have the ability to attach documents to you for interested suppliers to download. The service is very easy to use to publish tenders. We can set up the specific person in your organization with the access details or if you want to send tenders to us directly and we can publish them on your behalf.

If you have a contract, which you are looking to sub-contract, then we can also facilitate your requirements.

We can also publish your contract anonymously if you don't want to reveal your company details but want to see if there is anyone able to facilitate your needs at either a better price or deliver time.

In this time of low oil prices at Rebuilding Iraq, we believe our service can be invaluable in cost savings to maximize the return on your investment.

The cost of the service is currently free for Buyers to use the service, please get in touch if you would like any further information.
